

VOTE ON SALOONS HOLDS TWO YEARS

SAYS HEAD OF LEGAL DEPARTMENT OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

SHELDON EXPLAINS THE LAW

Cities in Wet Townships, However, May Vote on the Proposition In the Spring.

H. L. Sheldon, who has been transferred to Springfield, is now in charge of the legal department of the Anti-Saloon league, was asked for an interview on the question of how often it is possible to vote on the liquor question under the law. Mr. Sheldon states that there must be a misunderstanding in Sterling in regard to how often the question can be voted on.

Mr. Sheldon states that under the law it will be impossible to vote on the question in Whiteside county again until spring township election of 1910. He states that the question cannot be voted on again at the fall election, as has been previously stated here. This can only be done in the eighteen counties in this state not under township organization.

Mr. Sheldon states that if the people of Sterling so desire they can vote on the question again at the city election in 1909, but if they desire to vote on it as a township it cannot be done until the spring of 1910. The statement coming from the head of the legal department of the Anti-Saloon league and from the man who drafted the law, settles the question as to when the next election can be held on the proposition.

JUDGE LANDIS IS HERE TODAY

ENJOYING A PICNIC DINNER UP THE RIVER WITH DIXON FRIENDS.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, the distinguished jurist of Chicago, was today the guest of Judge Bethea and other friends in this city. Judge Landis, after spending Tuesday evening in Sterling, and Wednesday afternoon at the country home of Judge Bethea in Palmyra township, was brought to Dixon by W. J. McAlpine in his White Steamer. Last evening Judge Landis and Judge Bethea were the guests of Postmaster Shaw at his residence in Bluff Park.

This forenoon the two federal judges were taken up the river to the Law-Warner cottage where they spent the day with a picnic dinner. In the party were E. W. Smith, W. B. Brinton, B. F. Shaw, George Dixon, Harry Warner, Warren Badger, W. J. McAlpine and Henry S. Dixon.

Judge Landis will return to Chicago this evening.

FIELD IS HERE CAMPAIGNING

LOOKING AFTER HIS CHANCES AS CANDIDATE FOR MINORITY REPRESENTATIVE.

Albert Fields of Prophetstown, candidate for minority representative and Hal Whallon, deputy sheriff of the county and secretary of the democratic county central committee of Whiteside county, were here today in conference with the democratic leaders who are friendly to the interests of Mr. Field.

Mr. Whallon is quite confident that before the primaries his candidate, Mr. Fields, will have everything his own way. "Fields is the organization candidate. He is a business man of note and when it comes to campaigning he generally sees to it that nothing is left undone to get the votes," said the deputy sheriff.

BUSINESS MEN TO PICNIC.

The business men's gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. with their families are planning to spend the day of Wednesday, the 17th, at Lowell park, going up the river at 11 o'clock, taking their own lunches with them and returning in the evening. This will afford a pleasant outing and quite a large number expect to go.

IS HERE SEEKING STATE OFFICE

JAMES KINNEY ASKS SUPPORT AS CLERK OF SUPREME COURT.

James Kinney of Toulon, Stark county, republican candidate for clerk of the supreme court, spent today in Dixon looking after his interests in this county. Mr. Kinney is a pleasant gentleman to meet. For years he has been identified with republican politics, having been for eight years circuit clerk of Stark county. For ten years he has been clerk of the railroad committee of the State board of Equalization. During one term of the general assembly he was clerk of four senate committees, and is now serving his second term as engrossing clerk of the house of representatives. He expects to go into every county in the state during his campaign.

NEW DIXON-STERLING PHONE LINE COMING

THIRD CONNECTION IS BEING STRUNG BY THE INDEPENDENT COMPANY.

GROWTH OF BUSINESS DEMANDS

Five Connections Possible Now With Harmon Line and Bell Circuit.

The independent telephone companies, with which the Dixon Home Telephone company is associated, are building a third line between Dixon and Sterling, this line being on the south side of the river. The immense amount of business between the two cities necessitates this additional line. A new line is also being built between Sterling and Harmon, and in case of rush of business this line can be used for Dixon and Sterling business, making four lines available. Communication between Harmon and Sterling has heretofore been possible only through Dixon, and as the two lines now in operation between here and Sterling are in use constantly, Harmon got very poor service. The Home company is after the business and is getting an equipment which will furnish the best service possible. The Bell company's circuit makes the fifth connection.

LEADING DEMOCRATS MEET IN CHICAGO

HOLDING CONFERENCES TODAY
AS TO STRONGEST CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

PICK ALSCHULER OR MITCHELL

Among Other Things Under Consideration Are Defects in the Primary Law.

Chicago, June 4—Special — The members of the Democratic State Central committee, the delegates to the democratic national convention and other prominent democrats of the state are in conference at the Sherman House here today. Among the subjects for consideration are the defects in the new primary law and also the question as to who should be nominated as a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket will be seriously considered. Indications are that either Samuel Alschuler or John Mitchell will be agreed on as a candidate.

LICENSED TO WED.

The following marriage licenses were issued recently by County Clerk Thompson:

Charles McCarty, Dixon.
Elizabeth Dixon, Dixon.

Charles L. Appelgreen, Dixon...19
Verna May Travis, Rock Falls...18

Abram Edgar Bennett, Compton.
Mary Frances Peckham, Bristol, Ill.

Miss Ella Hess, an employee of the Democrat newspaper office in Madison, Wis., is here visiting her parents at Loveland Place.

YATES TO SPEAK IN DIXON JUNE 9

WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON THAT EVENING IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

BAND ENGAGED FOR THE MEETING

Mayor Edwards Is Local Manager and Hopes to Have Rousing Meeting.

Former Governor Richard Yates candidate for the republican nomination for governor, will be here next Tuesday evening, June 9, and at 8 o'clock will deliver an address in the opera house. His manager, Guy I. Bush of Downers Grove, member of the legislature and bank examiner, was here last evening in conference with Mayor Edwards, manager for the former governor in Lee county, and at this conference the date for Yates' coming was arranged.

Mr. Bush is confident that Yates will get the nomination. He gets encouragement in every county that he visits. The sentiment for Yates is growing in Cook county, according to Mr. Bush, and he is sure that if Yates gets a large vote in Cook county he will get the nomination, for he is strong in the country.

Yates will speak in Savanna on Monday evening, in Morrison Tuesday afternoon and will come from that city to Dixon and on Wednesday evening will address the people at Sterling.

Mayor Edwards said that he would arrange to give Yates a rousing welcome here, and will engage the Dixon Marine band to furnish the music.

CEMENT MEN HERE.

Fritz Worm, president, and George W. Rowvell, superintendent of the German-American Portland Cement company of LaSalle, spent the day here with Supt. Wuertth of the Sandusky-Portland cement plant of this city. Messrs. Wuertth and Rowvell were fellow employees for the Sandusky people at Sandusky, Ohio. The gentlemen expressed themselves as being well pleased with the plant of the Sandusky company in this city.

MASONS TO AMBOY.

Circuit Clerk Wm. B. McMahon, County Clerk Wm. C. Thompson, Sheriff Tourtellott and Deputy County Clerk Fred Dimick drove to Amboy this afternoon to attend a meeting of the Masonic lodge of that city. Five candidates were initiated, the work beginning at noon today.

PRINT SHOPS CONSOLIDATE.

Messrs. Stoddy and Lipp of the Phoenix Publishing company have consolidated their business and equipment with Rogers & Owen, printers, and will combine the plants in the Sazman building, where the latter firm is located.

W. R. C. MEMORIAL.

The members of the W. R. C. held their memorial services for the deceased members yesterday afternoon at the cemetery and decorated the graves of the thirty-one deceased members. The services were held at the lot of the unknown dead.

AUTOMOBILES

Mrs. E. E. Teape and her daughter left at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Clinton, Ia., on their way across the continent from Portland, Me., to Portland, Ore. At Elburn the ladies broke one of the rear springs on their automobile and this forenoon a new spring was placed in the machine. The work was done at the Brookner garage.

Chauffeur Van Dine drove Deputy Circuit Clerk H. A. Roe through the southern part of the county today.

The Mitchell runabout and a touring car both made perfect scores in the 24-hour endurance run yesterday at San Jose, Cal. The distance was 564 miles.

Paul Brookner has sold to C. C. Miller of Steward a Mitchell touring car.

Hal Bardwell will auction off the things left from the rummage sale tonight in the Brautigan building. Don't miss it.

FORMER GOVERNOR RICHARD YATES, Who will address the citizens of Dixon and adjoining country Tuesday evening, June 9, at Dixon Opera House.

DIXON FLORIST HAS GOOD BUSINESS

O. L. BAIRD SAYS HIS SALES WERE BEST IN FIFTEEN YEARS.

IS MAKING SOME IMPROVEMENTS

New Barn and Other Buildings Will Soon Be Erected on His Property.

O. L. Baird, the prominent florist of this city, remarked to a representative of the Evening Telegraph recently that his business this year just prior to Decoration day was the best in fifteen years. "Up to a week or so before that day business was not at all good," said Mr. Baird "but I think the wet weather had a great deal to do with the flower business. My business is growing and I shall have to make some extensive improvements."

Builds New Barn.

Mr. Baird is now busily engaged in erecting a new barn, 32x38 feet, the main part, with two wings, each 15x32 feet; also a hog barn 12x20 feet, of concrete blocks.

All the old buildings have been razed and a portion of the old material will be used in the construction of the new structure.

The barn and other buildings will be completed about July 1, in time for the hay crop.

MRS. GEORGE GUTCHES IS DEAD

PASSED AWAY AT HER HOME IN NORTH DIXON THIS NOON.

Mrs. George Gutches, 314 East Fellows street, died at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon after an illness of three weeks. Besides her husband she leaves a child three weeks old, father and mother residing at the Kingdom, four sisters and one brother. Deceased was born at the Kingdom thirty-four years ago, and was married to George Gutches eight years ago.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Heckman. Her one sister, Mrs. Peter Smith, resides in this city, her brother, Oscar Heckman, resides at the Kingdom, and two of her sisters reside in Texas and one in Aurora.

Mrs. Gutches was a woman highly respected by all who knew her and was a lovable, faithful wife.

Mrs. Minnie Upson went to Cedar Rapids this morning on a visit.

Johnnie Burke has resigned his position at the I. B. Countryman store.

LONGEST BRIDGE ON UPPER MISSISSIPPI

NEW DOUBLE-TRACK STRUCTURE OF NORTHWESTERN IS 2850 FEET LONG.

WILL BE READY NEXT SPRING

Clinton Bridge to Consist of Twenty-Four Spans, Draw Span Measuring 460 Feet.

Clinton's new double-track bridge across the Mississippi for the Northwestern road will be probably the longest structure across the upper river. It will measure 2850 feet, more than a half mile from end to end. The new bridge will consist of the following spans:

Eleven 50 foot spans.
One 76 foot span.
One 204 foot truss span.
Seven 150 foot truss spans all over east channel.
One 150 truss span.
One 186 foot truss span.
One 460 foot draw span.
One 55 foot girder approach, over main channel.

Be Finished Next Year.

The Wisconsin Bridge and Iron company has just finished the raising of material for truss spans over the east channel.

The Foundation company is now launching the octagonal caisson for the center pier of the 460 foot draw span in the main channel of the river and work on the steel approaches will probably commence some time next October. The bridge will be ready for use probably in April, 1909.

ARTISTS WILL COME TO CAMP JUNE 20

A large number of Chicago art students, probably fifty, will arrive in Dixon June 20th and go thence by launch to Grand Detour. They will be guests at the Sheffield and remain until July 11. Charles Francis Brown, the noted artist, will have charge of the sketching class.

ASSESSORS' BOOKS IN.

Assessors George Bauer of Brooklyn township and William Webber of Viola township were here today and turned in their books to County Treasurer John M. Sterling.

BOUGHT NORTH SIDE STORE.

Earl W. Sproul has bought from A. G. Graham & Co. their confectionery, fruit, cigar and soft drinks business on North Galena avenue. Earl is familiar with the work and will make a success.

Lloyd Miller, Herbert Bernstein and Elwell Austin visited the Black Hawk camp up the river today.

REHEARING DENIED ON OPTION LAW

SUPREME COURT MADE NO REMARKS IN HANDING DOWN THE ORDER.

FIXTURE ON THE STATUTE BOOKS

Only Thing That Can Effect It Now Would Be the Repeal by Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., June 4—Special—The local option law is now a fixture on the statute books of Illinois, unless it is repealed by the legislature. The supreme court today denied a rehearing in the case of the People against John McBride, in which case the supreme court holds that the local option law was constitutional. The court did not make any remarks in handing down the order, simply making the brief order, "Rehearing denied."

EDITOR SHOOTS DREYFUS IN ARM

INCIDENT HAPPENED AT CEREMONIES ATTENDING MOVING OF ZOLA'S BODY.

THE CITY IS GREATLY EXCITED

Further Outbreaks of the Anti-Dreyfus People Are Feared as the Result.

Paris, June 4—Special — Captain Alfred Dreyfus was shot in the arm today by M. Gregori, military editor of Gaulois. The shooting took place immediately following the ceremonies attending the transfer of the body of Emile Zola, the French author and friend of Dreyfus, from Montmartre cemetery to the Pantheon.

The city is greatly excited and further outbreaks of anti-Dreyfus people are feared.

CHILDREN WERE WELL DRILLED

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY PUPILS OF ST. MARY'S.

THE OPERA HOUSE WAS FILLED

Program Included Well Executed Drills, Songs, Recitations and Little Plays.

The most remarkable thing about the entertainment given by the pupils of St. Mary's school is the manner in which the little people are trained in the recitations, songs and drills. In this respect the annual entertainment given in Dixon opera house last night was superior to all previous entertainments. The careful and skillful training of these children was done by the Sisters of the school and to them belongs the credit. The average person cannot comprehend the volume of work and patience it requires to bring the children up to so high a standard in the rendition of school exercises. Hours, days and weeks have been devoted to getting the little people in shape to make a good showing. However, the reward these faithful teachers get is the knowledge that their work is always appreciated by the parents of the children and the friends of the school.

As usual, the attendance was large and the opera house was filled at 8 o'clock, at which time the exercises commenced and with but a few minutes intermission, were continued until 11 o'clock. Almost everybody remained until the last number, which is surely indicative of intense interest on the part of the large audience.

The entertainment consisted of an opening chorus by all the children; a recitation, The Excursion Trip, acted out by a dozen or more little girls, handsomely costumed; a song, I Can't Do This Sum, by about the same number of little boys; Vacation, a comedy in two acts; a drill, Dumb Bells, by the girls of the eighth grade; a visit to the Land of Mother Goose, by the pupils of the Third and Fourth grades; Indian Drill, by the Sixth grade boys; An Indian Trust, by Sixth grade girls, and, last but in no way least, was the beautiful cantata, The Little Gypsy, by the pupils of the higher grades.

The musical numbers on the piano were executed by Mary Hennen, Mary Madick, H. Curran, H. McIntyre and M. Lally. Each of these young people performed well their part of the entertainment.

Perhaps the most pleasing part of the entertainment was the dumb bell drill. Beautifully costumed young ladies went through the exercises in a very skillful manner.

The comedy, Vacation, was intensely interesting and the boys had their lines well committed and rendered them with ease.

The Mother Goose feature of the entertainment, which to the little people never grows old, was highly interesting to the audience.

The Indian Trust, given by the older girls, was splendidly given, it being one of the most difficult parts of the splendid entertainment in acting.

The cantata, The Little Gypsy, a beautiful story of song and verse, including the May pole dance, was the prettiest feature of the evening's exercises. Helen Clark, who filled the role of the little gypsy, sang her part very sweetly and was graceful in her acting. Her support was exceptionally good.

All in all, the entertainment was highly successful.

WILL MOVE HOUSE TO MR. SCRIVEN'S LOT

George C. Morris, housemover, has commenced work with his force of help preparatory to moving the house sold by the South Side school board from the lot purchased for school purposes. The building was purchased by Alderman John Scriven for $348 and will be moved a distance of eight blocks, about half a mile, to a lot at the corner of East Seventh street and Dement avenue.

HARMON BOARD DISCUSSES FINANCES

MONEY FORMERLY SPENT IN SALOONS MUST NOW GO FOR TAXES.

FARMERS BUSY BETWEEN RAINS

Much Corn Is Up, But Some Has Rotted in the Ground—Dance On Friday Night.

Harmon, Ill., June 4.—The village dads met in regular monthly session Monday evening and transacted considerable business. Trustee Hettlinger and Clerk Ostrander were absent, the latter being called to Pontiac by the death of his grandfather. The office of clerk p. o. term was offered to each member of the board in turn and by each declined, until an adjournment was suggested. Finally the services of ex-Clerk Swab were secured.

The annual appropriation ordinance was introduced and passed. This ordinance provides for an expenditure of $2200. There is about $1700 in the treasury at present and the balance of $500 will be raised by the tax levy. Without a vote of the tax payers, the maximum amount of the tax levy could not be over $600, and as the amount collected heretofore since the organization of the village in 1901 has not exceeded $200 the tax payers need not be surprised to find their village burdens more than twice as large next year as they were this year. This, it is claimed by a majority of the board, is just what should be expected after the voters on April 7th cut off five-sixths of the revenue by eliminating the saloons in the township. When the surplus accumulated during license years is exhausted the tax levy will likely be still higher, as more than $500 a year will be required to pay salaries and light the village.

Sewers and Public Dump.

Provisions were made for sewers on Main and South First streets, the former for the purpose of allowing the residents of the north part of town to drain their lots. The sewer on the south side will drain South Main street and at the same time allow some unsightly gullies to be filled up, which will be done by dumping rubbish therein and then covering the same with earth.

That Obnoxious Poll Tax.

One of the main issues of the village campaign this spring was the repeal of the poll tax ordinance that was in force and which for various reasons has caused much hard feeling.

The friends of the poll tax had an ordinance ready Monday night, in which some of the objectionable features of the old ordinance were cut out. A poll of two days' labor on the streets, which may be commuted by the payment of $1.50, was levied. The former levy was one day's labor, which could be commuted for a dollar and a half. The former ordinance provided that the village officials should be exempted from payment of this tax, and the new ordinance removes this exemption.

The voters who relied on the promise of exemption from this burden have not yet been heard from.

Busy Between Rains.

The spectacle of plowing for corn, planting corn and cultivating corn all on the same farm was seen this week.

Many farmers are through planting and in most instances the plant is up and growing as well as could be expected, the cold, wet weather considered. But there are considerable areas planted where there will be no corn, the seed having rotted in the ground or the plant being killed by too much water.

Little work was done in the past eight days and many farmers have not been able to finish planting. One farmer who has been ready and willing to plant any time during the past two weeks, but unable to do so, has discarded his yellow dent seed corn and secured enough 90-day corn to plant the balance of the crop.

The weather has rendered it necessary to replant many fields, if a stand is desired. But little replanting will be done.

Baseball Boys Will Dance.

Tomorrow, Friday, evening the young men of the last year's ball club will give a dance in Durr's hall. Prestin & Williams' orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. This, coupled with the fact that there has been no dance in Harmon for some months, ought to insure a good crowd.

Labor Saving Device.

"Yes, siree," said the freckled lad proudly, "my dad's a genius, he is."

"That so?" responded the weary coffee mill agent.

"Waal, I should say so! Dad noticed that every time the old hand came around Sunday mornings he began wagging his stumpy tail."

"Anything unusual in that, sonny?"

"No, not for the hound, mister, but dad got up the idea of attaching a shoe brush and a whisk broom to Bowser's tail. Now when dad is ready to go to meeting his shoes are shined and the legs of his trousers are dusted without his moving a finger. By gosh, dad's got as much brains as a furin diplomat!"—Detroit Tribune.

A Satisfactory Compact.

At a golden wedding celebration the groom of fifty years ago referred to the perfect unanimity and concord there had existed between him and his wife during the long years of wedded life.

Said he: "When we were first married we agreed that she should settle all the small differences that occurred and I all the large ones. This rule we have adhered to. She has always settled the small disputes, and, my friends, there have never been any large ones."—Lippincott's Magazine.

German "Thrift."

The latest story of German "thrift" is told at the expense of the proprietor of a circulating library, which charged for the wear and tear suffered by his books at the hands of his patrons. One volume came back to his scrutiny. "See here," he exclaimed, "there is a hole on page 19 of my beautiful book. And see here," he went on, turning over the leaf, "there is another on page 20."

The moment you take Kodol your Digestion Starts

Kodol is liquid, like the digestive juices. It acts the moment you take it.

The pain ends, irritation stops, the food is completely digested.

That is not true of other digesters, for they rely largely on pepsin.

Pepsin digests albumen perfectly, but that is all it can do.

Starch, fats and phosphates form most of your food. Pepsin can't digest those.

And it can't do bowel digestion. Yet half of digestion is done by the bowel fluids.

It requires many ingredients to make a perfect digester, and Kodol contains them all.

It digests any food—any mixture of foods—completely.

It does all that the stomach does—all that the bowels do.

You can see it do this in a test tube, under proper conditions. You can feel what it does in the stomach. There can be no doubt about it.

The result is complete relief—complete rest to the stomach.

Medicine can't cure dyspepsia. A weak stomach is like a lame ankle. Nature alone can cure it.

But a cure is impossible while undigested food irritates the stomach lining.

It is impossible so long as the stomach is taxed.

Don't diet—don't starve yourself; for nourishment will do more than medicine.

But let Kodol, for a little time, do all the stomach's work. You will be surprised to see how quickly the stomach then recovers.

Our Guarantee

On the first dollar bottle of Kodol your druggist gives a signed guarantee. If it fails to do all we claim, your druggist returns your money. You take no risk whatever. This $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

VISIT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Have Luncheon in the Twin City of Urbana and Also See Danville.

Some Items About the University of Illinois and Its Great Work, and the Two University Towns.

ing was carried out as follows:
Program in Detail.
Tuesday: 2 o'clock—President's address, J. C. Adams, Peotone.
Music.
Address: "Lincoln," Edward Yates, Pittsfield.
Music.
Address: Stephen A. Douglass, W.
T. Davidson, Lewiston.
On Tuesday evening, Smoker for the men at the Elks' Club and reception to the ladies at the Beardsley hotel.
Wednesday: At 8 o'clock an automobile drive about the cities of Champaign and Urbana. At 10 o'clock a business session and talk on Journalism at the University of Illinois, by Mr. F. W. Scott.
At 11 o'clock a trip to the university and about the buildings and grounds.
Short talks by Dean Davenport, Professor Hopkins and Professor Breckenridge. The ladies were addressed by Professor Bevier, who spoke especially on the work in household science.
At 1:00 o'clock a visit to Urbana, and a dinner in the Elks rooms, given by the Urbana Commercial Club. Talks by A. J. Miller, Our Guests; F. H.
Daggs, Good Fellowship; H. J. Green, Journalism and Business, and impromptu talks by visiting newspaper men.
The ladies of the party were entertained by Mrs. S. T. Busey, trustee of the university.
At 3:30 return to the university to visit the College of Engineering and complete the round of the institution.
At 8 o'clock a banquet, tendered by the Champaign Chamber of Commerce.
At the banquet the following list of toasts were responded to:
The city and its surroundings, J. R.
Steward; Lincoln-Douglas-Freeport Debate, Smith D. Atkins; Monosyllables, Milton Bucklin; The University of Illinois, President E. J. James; The T. P.
A., President J. C. Adams.
Thursday morning was given over to the transaction of routine business. In the afternoon the entire party was taken to Danville over the track of the Illinois Traction system. A band concert was given the visitors at the Soldiers' Home, and a trip about the city was afforded by the traction company.
President Adams' Address.
The feature of the Tuesday afternoon session was the address of the president of the association, President J. C. Adams, in his address, spoke of the gratifying growth of the association, and said that "the future of this association is going to be just exactly what we make it. It is ours to mould and form as we choose. If we keep it representative of the very best in Illinois newspaperdom, it will grow in power and influence. That the future is big with opportunities is my sincere conviction, and I am persuaded to believe that the members will arise to meet the opportunities."

He urged the forming of county organizations and the establishing of uniform rates for legal notices and publications. He heartily favored the recent rulings of the postoffice department in regard to second-class matter, and vigorously opposed the establishment of a parcels post system. "The prosperity of the country newspaper is dependent upon the prosperity of the retail merchant and the growth and advancement of the town in which it is published. To establish a system which tends to center the trade of a vast country in one or two great cities, instead of its being diffused throughout the land would eventually bring about the conditions which are one of the curses of every European country having a domestic parcels post system."
"I cannot escape the conviction that the members of this association will prove false, not only to their own interests, but to the interests of the communities which support them, if they cease to oppose every effort made to fasten upon this country a system which is based upon absolutely false ideas of economic principles."

Urges Postal Banks and Printing of Laws.
President Adams urged upon the association their support of the proposed postal savings banks and continued the fight for the publications in the newspapers of session laws and proposed constitutional amendments. "It is absurd for a state to expect its citizens to form intelligent opinions on these amendments without providing the information upon which to base them.
Ohio has a law providing for the publication of the full text of proposed constitutional amendments in the country papers for four successive weeks preceding the election. A similar law in this state would be of great value to the public and to the papers."
The speaker pointed out the great work that the state university is accomplishing, and went into a detailed advocacy of support of the state's educational institutions by a fixed mil-lax instead of by biennial appropriations. "The university is a truly great institution," he said, "in every way worthy the hearty support of the citizens. It is the crowning glory of the public school system which the constitution stipulates shall be provided for by the legislature. In recent years the legislature has awakened to the importance of the work of the university, and has provided generously for the extension of that work and the building of a plant suitable to its needs."

Through the Towns by Automobile.
One of the most enjoyable features of the meeting was the automobile ride through Champaign and Urbana and the University of Illinois. The ride took us past the new High School, the new government building, the Burnham hospital, the Burnham atheneum, which is the city library, and White Park.
Around the park are many beautiful homes—in fact Champaign should be called a city of beautiful homes. The Champaign Country Club lies to the southwest of the city and the drive is made between rows of magnificent trees.
The churches of Champaign deserve more than passing mention. The First Methodist church has just been completed at a cost of $100,000. The banquet given to our association took place in the dining hall of this church.
At the west entrance to the university grounds we saw the new university Y. M. C. A. building which has just been completed at a cost of $100,000. We passed through the university grounds, which need a special section in this review of the things we saw. The people of Illinois should all see this great university as we saw it, and wake up to the fact that it is theirs

—that they are supporting it and are responsible for the continuation of its wonderful development.
Leaving the university grounds we passed into the city of Urbana. Only an imaginary line separates the two cities, and a stranger does not know when he passes from one to the other.
Urbana is the county seat of Champaign county, and the court house, jail, and sheriff's residence are in keeping with the other fine public buildings already described.
One thing which deserves more than passing notice is the rest room in Champaign, maintained by the Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment and comfort of those who trade here. People from adjoining towns have a telephone, check packages, and meet one another while they are in Champaign shopping. Better theatrical companies, singers and musical organizations come to Champaign than in any town that has a population of only 15,000.

A Side Trip to Danville.
Through the courtesy of the Illinois Traction System and its president, Hon.
W. B. McKinley, on Thursday afternoon we went to Danville by trolley to visit the Soldiers' Home in Uncle Joe Cannon's town. The trip took us through the leading business and residence portion of Danville. A fine concert by the band at the Soldiers' Home, and an inspection of the buildings and grounds and a view of Danville ended an afternoon of great pleasure. The forty-third annual convention was one of the most pleasant and profitable ever held by the association.

VISIT TO STATE UNIVERSITY

Showed Many Unexpected Points of Interest.
Between the beautiful and thriving towns of Urbana and Champaign, for the most part just inside the Urbana line, are the grounds and buildings of the University of Illinois. Here the Press Association spent nearly all of Wednesday, and the testimony is that the day was one of the most delightful ever passed by the members in any convention. We all had heard of our great state university. Some of us had visited it. But many were entirely ignorant of its size, its scope, the variety and magnitude of its interests, the beauty of its grounds, and its great educational importance. Expressions of surprise were heard on every side from those who had not been before, friendly to the university's demands for large appropriations. But to see in this case is to believe. Everyone went away feeling that the demands of the university are reasonable and convinced that the welfare of the state will be promoted by doing still more in every line of the university's activities. The university is situated on a beautifully-kept campus of two hundred acres. There are about thirty buildings on this campus, where more than four hundred instructors teach four thousand students, and where the many other activities of the institution are carried on. To the visitor the large number of buildings and the surprising amount of equipment at first seem ample to meet all the needs of the university. So greatly has the university grown, recently, however, and so many demands have been made on the institution by the numerous interests of the state, that the capacity of every building is taxed, and many buildings are badly overcrowded. Two new structures are to be erected immediately, but they will offer only partial and temporary relief.

The impression is rather general that the appropriations for the University of Illinois are larger than those of other states. That is a mistake. Of the sum voted the university and the two experiment stations, a large proportion goes to help the farming interests and the manufacturing interests of the state, and does not contribute at all to the active work of the university in the teaching of students. Of the appropriation made by the last legislature about twenty-five per cent went to the Agricultural Experiment Station to further the farming interests. As a matter of fact the state University of Illinois is not given as much for carrying on the regular work of caring for the students as is given for that purpose alone to the Universities of Michigan, or Wisconsin, or Iowa, or California. In proportion to the wealth and population of the states, Illinois does not expend one-half as much on its university as these other states, and not even as much as Missouri, or Kansas, or Nebraska.

How the Work is Organized.
The university is one great institution, within which the work is organized under various heads. It includes:
The College of Literature and Arts,
The College of Engineering, The College of Science, The College of Agriculture, The Graduate School, The School of Library Science, The School of Music, The College of Law, The College of Medicine, The College of Dentistry, The School of Pharmacy, The School of Education and The School of Railway Engineering and Administration.
Several of these in turn are made up of groups representing somewhat distinct lines of work.

Many Auxiliary Interests.
Besides the great organization whose business is the instruction of students, there are numerous auxiliary organizations helping to carry on the important work of the state. The Agricultural Experiment Station, the Engineering Experiment Station, the State En-tomologist's Office, the State Laboratory of Natural History, the State Geological Survey, and the State Water Survey all do their work at the university, and are closely connected with its activities.
State University Has 4,743 Students.
The attendance at the University of Illinois has this year reached 4,743, which places it fifth in the universities of the United States. This great gathering of students has come very largely in the last ten or twelve years. How rapidly the numbers have increased is shown by the following table:
Registration of students for 12 years:
1907..... 1,075

1908.....	1,581
1909.....	1,827
1910.....	2,214
1911.....	2,293
1912.....	2,950
1913.....	3,288
1914.....	3,504
1915.....	3,504
1916.....	4,100
1917.....	4,316
1918.....	4,743

Practical College Education.
The university graduates now more than four hundred students each year equipped to take up the work of developing the resources of the commonwealth. Of this number the greatest proportion is engineers, closely followed by teachers, farmers and scientists, lawyers, doctors, pharmacists, dentists, librarians and many others. Especial effort is made to give these students at the state university the kind of training that will fit them to do the work that needs to be done. An instance of that kind of training, which a few years ago was unheard of in colleges, is that given in the courses in training for business.
Courses in Commerce and Business Training.
For five years the university struggled with very inadequate means to maintain commercial and business courses of a high grade. Of course, the university does not compete with the so-called business college or commercial school. These have their own proper fields. It does not undertake to teach commercial arithmetic or bookkeeping.
It aims primarily to train men who will ultimately occupy executive positions, and also teachers of high grade commercial work.

The present year, for the first time, they have been able to offer adequate facilities for training in commerce, business and the public service. Seven different lines of work are offered: general mercantile business, commerce and consular service, banking, railway administration, insurance, journalism work, and accountancy. These are, in each instance, four years courses, and lead to the usual college degree.
The heart of the work is Economics and Accountancy, and in these subjects there are eight or nine instructors. Some of the subjects are economics, economic history of the United States, commercial geography, accountancy and auditing, commercial law, public finance, financial history of the United States, the theory and practice of money and banking, the consular and diplomatic service and the commercial policy of the United States.
There are two or three hundred students taking these courses in full or in part. Every young man who is looking forward to a business career should go to the university and take one of these courses. For a business man to be successful now he must have a knowledge of the complex relations of great business organizations and world markets.
Such statistics as are obtainable show that the university trained man who goes into business soon passes his competitor who does not have such training.

Closely connected with the business courses is the School of Railway and Administration. Here the young man may train himself in Railway Civil Engineering, Railway Electrical Engineering, Railway Mechanical Engineering, Train Management and Railway Operation. These courses are intended to train for that considerable proportion of railway positions, whose duties require more than average ability.
The work in Journalism includes class instruction, talks by newspaper men and practice in newspaper writing. The student is required to take a pretty general course of study in economics, history, political science and literature; is required to be constantly at work, writing; and is kept enthusiastic by the practical man he meets and the practical work he is required to do.

The Graduate School.
The graduate school is the highest department of the university, supplementing the instruction offered in the undergraduate schools and colleges. It furnishes opportunities for that investigative work which is absolutely essential to the development of the university in the true sense of the word. It gives a chance to men and women who may be interested in advancing the sum total of human knowledge by new discoveries in the various departments of science to prepare themselves by special training for this sort of work. It is the only department in which the teachers in our high schools and colleges can get that advanced preparation for their work which is desirable they should have.

The building up of graduate school work is expensive, and it was necessary to ask for special appropriation for the purpose at the last session of the Legislature. This request had been made of the preceding legislature, but was not granted. When presented at the last session, however, the matter was well received and carefully considered. Governor Deneen supported the project in his message and the legislature made an appropriation of $50,000 a year for the purpose.
The graduate school is making itself felt in the upbuilding of the educational system of the state, and the research work which is being carried on in connection with it will more than repay, even from the viewpoint of money considerations alone, all that is put into it. The graduate school is trying to get into closer relations with the smaller colleges of the state. The relations between them and the university are of a very friendly nature, and are becoming those of practical co-operation. As the demand for more and higher education grows, the state university will be called upon to offer more and more work of a graduate grade and will have to rely to a greater extent than now upon the colleges throughout the state to give students the college training of an under-graduate grade. The interests of the university and the colleges are consequently in every way mutual interests.
Keeping Illinois a Great Agricultural State.
The purpose of the College of Agriculture and Agricultural Experiment Station are substantially the same—to do what they can to improve the agriculture of the state, develop its producing power, and enrich the lives of its people. The experiment station aims to do this by means of experiments along leading agricultural lines, and the college aims at the same general purpose through instruction of its students.

Our crops are not yet improved to their utmost and we have only begun to realize what our soil may produce if properly handled; although it is a startling fact that within the brief period of a single lifetime the soils of Illinois have notably failed in their fertility, so wasteful have been our methods.
Specifically the business of the college is to offer and conduct instruction in all the various lines of agriculture which are especially strong in Illinois.
Something over eighty different courses are offered in soils and crops, in animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, horticulture, veterinary science and household science. No fewer than thirty-five teachers are employed, and we have 510 students and 53 specialists in both college and station.

The growth on the station side has been equal to that of the college; indeed it has gone far toward making the work of the college possible. Of the money available for all purposes a little more than half goes into experiments. Many of these experiments are carried on under the very eyes of the students, who thus have the means of getting into the closest touch with the newest phases of agricultural development. Speaking generally, these experiments run along seven distinct lines, as follows: 1. Experiments in the improvement and production of the four principal crops, corn, wheat, oats and clover; in the productive capacity of Illinois' soils looking toward permanent fertility; in orchard fruits and their economic production and marketing; in meat production; investigations in the production and marketing of horses; experiments in the economic production of milk and the preparation and sale of its products, and experiments in floriculture, aiming especially at its commercial side.

The greatest need in this direction today is for more money with which to undertake many questions that are up for solution, but which cannot be touched without more funds. During the study of Illinois' soils all the principal types of soils in the state have been carefully studied. Having gotten a fair knowledge of the different types within the state, the next need was, of course, to locate and map the different types in order that land owners might know the character and best treatment of the soil of their farms. Men skilled in this matter have been sent over the state as far as funds will permit, and now some thirty counties have been accurately surveyed acre by acre, and soil differences down to five acres have been mapped;
but these maps cannot be published and the information cannot be given out because sufficient funds are not available.

If we are to get the greatest good from our work somewhat larger amounts of money are not only necessary, but would pay extremely well upon the investment. It is a perfectly safe proposition to assert that the benefits arising from the work of the Experiment Station in the last ten years will enrich the state more than the university as a whole has ever cost or ever will cost.
Here is a question of public policy on which the members of the state should take an active stand.

The Engineering Experiment Station.
The engineering experiment station of the University of Illinois was established in 1903 in connection with the college of engineering for the purpose of investigating problems of importance to professional engineers, and to the manufacturing, mining, railway, constructional and industrial interests of the state. The importance of the work done by the agricultural experiment stations suggested the possibility of doing work of similar value to the industrial interests.

The organization consists of a staff of nine members composed, with the dean and director, of the heads of the different departments of the college of engineering. The work of the college and the station is thus very closely related. The practical nature of the investigations and their adaptation to present day needs are assured by means of conferences with committees of the leaders of the industrial activities of the state. An extension division of the station provides for bringing the problems and the interests of the manufacturers and engineers throughout the state into close touch with the facilities of the station with a view to their more thorough study.

Up to the present time twenty-one bulletins, of value to engineering science, have been published. The investigations have related chiefly to tests of concrete, reinforced concrete beams and columns, fuel tests of Illinois coal, the problems of the weathering of coal and smokeless combustion of bituminous coals, the strength of chain links, tests of electric lamps, tests of liquid spikes, resistance of tubes to collapse, transmission of heat through boiler tubes, etc.

It is expected that the experiment station will prove helpful to the manufacturing and building interests. It will supply accurate data regarding the properties of the materials used in engineering structures and buildings. The reinforced concrete tests now in progress show great possibilities. A series of tests on cast iron columns and on various forms of steel and iron members is contemplated. The manufacturing processes will be investigated and problems relating to design and construction will be studied. Fuel supply is of such prime importance in our industrial development that no effort will be spared in the introduction and promulgation of improved methods and processes in the mining, preparation and consumption of coal.

Along the line of power production
there is opportunity for much investigation. New problems are confronting both the builders and users of steam and gas motors, especially in the steam turbine and gas engines of large power.
Still newer types of motors are being proposed, the gas turbine being one attractive possibility.
That the work of the station is meeting with the approval of manufacturers and engineers is evidenced by the numerous requests that have come in from various industries asking for tests of their materials and information concerning their work. Many of these are of a private nature, which the station is not prepared to undertake. From many of them, however, knowledge is gained of what the public is anxious to have done, and suggestions are given that will be of value in determining future lines of investigations.

The Visit to Urbana.
Urbana, through the courtesy of its Commercial Club and the Elks, entertained the Press Association at luncheon in the Elks rooms at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday. The visitors were met at the university, after a part of the visit to that institution had been completed, by a committee of the Commercial Club, which included Mr. L. A. McLean, formerly president of the association.
The men were conducted to the Elks rooms, and the ladies were taken to luncheon by Mrs. S. T. Busey, member of the university board of trustees. At the Elks rooms the members of the association were given a very enjoyable luncheon by the Commercial Club, and several toasts were responded to, as indicated by the program previously mentioned. After the luncheon the whole party returned to the university.

Urbana, at the western edge of which the university is located, is the county seat of Champaign county, and lies in the center of the most prolific land of the Illinois corn belt. It is a town of about 10,000 inhabitants, is well built with its attractive appearance, and vies with its near neighbor on the west in hospitality to the visitors to the university and the "Twin Cities."

A Bit of Urbana's History.

Historical questions do not disturb the business man of this thriving city in his strenuous moments, but in this university center matters frequently arise that mark epochs in Urbana's growth. Urbana's site was the campground of the Indian until 1820, when by treaty the land became the property of the whites. In 1822, almost as soon as surveyed, the land began to be settled with white families.
In a few years the first meeting of the settlers was held—June 31, 1833—at which time was issued the plat-book which created the county of Champaign and named Urbana as the county seat.

The town grew steadily. Railroads were built, schools and churches were established and in 1867 the University of Illinois, then called "Illinois Industrial University," was established there by the legislature. Urbana was a small town then, and for some years the new university, placed out on the western edge of the town, was attended by only a small number of students. But the growth has been steady. Urbana has grown to the university from the east, Champaign from the west, until the whole is now a compact, well-built community.

Located in the northeastern part of Urbana are the Big Four railroad shops, employing 600 men, the employees of which are honest, sober, intelligent, energetic citizens. These shops were built in 1867, when the township subscribed $100,000 and the city $5,000 to secure the prize. The shops have steadily grown to their present capacity. When the shops needed rebuilding, some years ago, and there was danger of their leaving, Urbana contributed $50,000 to the erection of better shops.

The Urbana brick yards are another big industry which employ a large number of men and there are any number of smaller factories which are located in this thriving city. These are all rapidly branching out and enlarging.
In an industrial way Urbana is growing steadily and the prospects for future development are decidedly bright.

A Live Commercial Club.

To the Commercial Club of Urbana, which was organized five years ago,
great credit is due for the rapid strides
the county seat has made. The Champaign county fair grounds were secured for Urbana through the energy of the Commercial Club, and the club has in view the purchase of Crystal Lake park from private ownership, and has succeeded in securing from Andrew Carnegie the promise to erect a handsome library in this city. The club interests itself in all matters pertaining to the welfare and advancement of Urbana. It maintains a band which gives concerts each Saturday evening on the business streets of the city. It entertains visiting to the city, and does many other things to further the interests of Urbana.

Urbana has the new Illinois theater, properly styled the "Theater Beautiful," which was erected at a cost of over $60,000. It was formally opened last season and is one of the largest and best playhouses in the state. The best comphonies on the road are booked for this theater.

Another new structure in Urbana is the $65,000 flatiron building, a four-story brick business house, which is considered to be one of the most imposing in Central Illinois and in which is located, besides the big Flatiron department store and the Elks club rooms, numerous offices of professional men.
The handsome new Cohen building is another fine business house completed this spring. The court house is one of the newest and most imposing in the Sucker state.

Urbana's system of public schools is exceptionally good and public educational advantages of the city have brought many families, especially those who are preparing their children for the university. Forty-one teachers are employed and there are 300 pupils enrolled in the grades and 230 in the high school. Annually $25,000 is expended to maintain these schools.
The schools and the university combine to make Urbana especially desirable as a residence city. Well paved and heavily shaded streets, and an unusually large proportion of fine residences, give the whole city a tone of wealth and dignified stability.

Among many other things of which Urbana is proud are its fire department, consisting of 12 members; its septic sewerage tank, the first ever used for this purpose; its street cars and its interurbans; its city water works, furnishing water that has been tested and found pure; its annual Chautauqua, lasting ten days each year, at Crystal Lake park; its new W. C. T. U. fountain, located at the apex of the Patron building triangle; its great drainage system, which is constantly being improved; its beautiful churches; its cemeteries; its miles of paved streets and fine sidewalks; its business men, its professional men and a hundred other things.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:
"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

$150 FOR BEST ARTICLE.

The Republican Congressional Committee offers $150 for the best article not exceeding 1000 words on the subject:

"Why the Republican Party Should Be Successful Next November."

The competition is open to all.

In judging the merits of contributions consideration will be given not only to style, arguments and facts presented, but to the convincing power and it should be borne in mind that members of congress are to be elected as well as president and vice president.

No manuscripts will be returned, but will be property of the committee.

The best article will be widely used both in the newspapers of the country and in pamphlet form.

The award will be made and check sent to successful contestant about August 15th. Manuscripts must be mailed not later than July 15th to HELP THE BIRDS.

How many citizens of Dixon have noticed the purple martins trying to find nesting places on the bridge or in the arc lamps? These birds are extremely valuable as air scavengers and mosquito eaters and their value is fully appreciated in the chautauqua grounds at Winona, Ind., where hundreds of boxes are placed at their disposal. Purple martins are wholly dependent for homes and a little encouragement in the way of homes will insure their yearly return in increasing numbers. They will need a little protection from the sparrows until they get possession of the boxes, but they will amply repay the kindness shown them. Dixon has many valuable and beautiful Baltimore orioles which build swinging nests of strings, but the sparrows pick up all the available building material long before the orioles arrive.

I purchased a ball of white cotton twine, cut it into lengths of about eighteen inches and have had the pleasure of seeing them carry it away and build a nest during the past two weeks.

Any sort of a substantial small box will attract the sweet singing house wren, which will repay you well by protecting your garden.

Why not help our best friends, the song birds, instead of letting the miserable, noisy, pestiferous sparrows have things all their own way? A BIRD LOVER.

THINGS POLITICAL

The indications are that William B. Allison will return to the United States senate from the state of Iowa. It is almost certain that he defeated Governor Cummins by a majority of about 10,000 to 12,000 votes.

All roads lead to the republican national convention, held in Chicago next week. That great meeting will be the center of all political work for the next two weeks.

It looks like Taft. His manager, Frank H. Hitchcock, claims 517 delegates instructed for Taft. He gives the opposition 227 delegates.

The first thing the republican national committee will do when it meets on Friday will be to hear the Alabama state contest.

The democratic party of Idaho is hopelessly split on the Mormon question. Two conventions were held in that state yesterday. Both claim to be regular.

Louisiana will be for Bryan. Convention is expected to give instructions to delegates.

Former Governor Yates spoke at Vandalia yesterday.

For Cannon this statement was made in Chicago yesterday: The Cannon people maintain that the secretary of war will not have a sufficient number of delegates to secure his nomination on the first ballot. After the first ballot his forces will disintegrate and Speaker Cannon is to be the beneficiary.

Edward D. Shurtleff of Marengo, speaker of the house, made formal announcement yesterday that he will be candidate for re-election to the seat he now holds. A hard fight is looked for.

LIVELY CANDIDATE.

John J. Brown, candidate for secretary of state, is getting in good work. His home paper, the Vandalia Union, has this to say of his recent one week's work:

Mr. Brown was in Decatur, Peoria, Springfield and Chicago last week. He spoke at the state meeting of the Elks in Peoria. He addressed the Advertising association of Chicago, in their club rooms. He also assisted in the dedication of a Pythian hall in Evanston, where he addressed the people. He was in Kankakee Monday and Monday night addressed a large gathering of Odd Fellows in that city. He also spoke in three different places in the city of Chicago to the Knights, each of them being what is known in Chicago as district meetings, where they gather from all over the city.

He has received at his headquarters 600 petitions in the last ten days and he is sending out jayloads of mail matter. The letters at the office and the papers throughout the state declare that he is making the most popular campaign of any candidate that ever ran for the office of state secretary.

NEW ROAD WILL DEVELOPE MEXICO

HARRY CRABTREE WRITES OF CONDITIONS PREVAILING THERE.

LAND VALUES WILL SOON SOAR

With Cheaper Transportation Mines and Farms Now Dormant Will Be Developed.

Los Angeles, California.

May 27, 1908.

Editor Dixon Telegraph:

Dixon, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

In my last letter to you I spoke of the reported surrender of the Yaqui Indians down in Old Mexico. The Harriman interests, for whom this company are now the contractors for the construction of what is known as the Southern Pacific's Concession (Cananea Rio Yaqui y Pacifico R. R.) down the west coast of Mexico, and through the states of Sonora, Sinaloa, part of Jalisco and the territory of Tepic, will open up an immense territory of fertile agricultural land and ultimately, when the line is completed and in running order, add vastly to the commercial importance of Los Angeles and as this country is developed early vegetables, fruits, minerals and lumber will reach Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific lines and its connections by way of Nogales and Tucson, Ariz. Even now early tomatoes are shipped from Guaymas, Sonora, Mex., to the markets of Los Angeles, a distance of over 800 miles.

This new line of railroad is now completed from Guaymas as far south as a point half way between the Mocoito river and Culiacan, the capital of the state of Sinaloa, and will probably reach the capital on or about the Fourth of July. I will not hazard a guess as to the date of the completion of the line from Culiacan to Mazatlan but it is generally understood that it is planned in 1909 to join the links of the long chain of road as far as Mazatlan, thence to Guadalajara, the destination of the new line being the most difficult part of the road, for only one route has thus far been discovered over the mountains which it will have to cross, let alone numerous canyons, cuts and fills which will have to be made. A great many things have to be considered in the construction of a line of this kind through a new country and the rainy season stops work sometimes, as well as the extreme heat. Eleven rivers are to be crossed by the new line, boxing to the sea, the land adjacent to which is capable of very high development.

This new line of railroad will open up for settlement the largest area of fertile agricultural land (outside of California) on the Pacific coast. It will also bring about the development of mining properties that hitherto have languished because of the extreme cost of transportation. At present it is not considered worth while to ship ore carrying less than $100 to the ton. Thousands of mines now lying dormant will be opened when the railroad is in operation. Mexico will become the great mining center of America and mining machinery will be in great demand, Los Angeles being the market for such. Without question the future of that country is far more promising than was that of Southern California years ago. Its natural resources are more abundant, but the work of reclamation probably is more difficult. Timber must be removed, canals dug and other work done. This territory is measured, not in thousands, but in millions of acres.

Everybody these days is looking for cheap land. If the settler can find rich agricultural land in Mexico, at a low figure, there is no reason why he should fear to live under the Mexican flag. The Mexican government is extremely friendly to American investors and settlers, the chief care being to see that a clear title is obtained to lands purchased. Two years ago you could buy a hectare (2 47-100 acres) of land for ten to fifteen cents (gold) per acre; today that same land is held at six dollars (gold) per acre, although fine land still can be obtained for two dollars Mex. ($1 gold). The variety of products is astonishing. Corn produces fifty bushels to the acre and beans can be grown without irrigation. In ten years' time this land will be worth at least $100 (gold) per acre, if not more. Why people go into a "blizzard" country to farm I never could understand, when they can do so in an equitable climate. One should go down and see the land before they buy and not trust to what "colonization" outfits tell you, and stay away from all rubber, sugar and coffee plantation schemes, for the most of them are fakes. These lands are largely in the hands of a few wealthy land owners; the poor do not own the land they work, but lease it. Of course there are some reputable land companies, but the best way is to buy your own land, and see it first. There is going to be lots of money made in land in Old Mexico by those who get in soon.

EVANGELIST SUNDAY ROASTS THE CLERGY

THE BALL PLAYER EVANGELIST TELLS MINISTERS WHY THEY FAIL.

MORE TOBACCO SAUCE ADVISED

He Calls the Pittsburg Preachers Grafters, Quacks and Mollycoddles.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—The ministers of Pittsburg invited Evangelist Billy Sunday, former ball player, to come to them and deliver a lecture on "Why Some Ministers Fail." Sunday reached town from Sharon, Pa., this morning and tonight some of the speakers are sorry he came, for his talk in the fashionable First Presbyterian church was from the shoulder and there was no mincing of his words. He roasted the local ministers fearfully, saying that some of them ought to be back on the farm. In part, Sunday said:

"Your churches of today have degenerated into third and fourth rate amusement houses. The congregations are made up largely of champagne guzzling, beer drinking, wine sizzling, Sunday golf playing, novel reading persons who lie back and sing 'Throw Out the Life Line,' when they couldn't throw out a clothes line."

Too Much Buttermilk.

Sunday said that one of the reasons most ministers failed was because they were full of lemonade and buttermilk instead of tobacco sauce and mustard. At one point he shouted:

"I preach the gospel of Jesus Christ. I preach heaven and hell. I go back to the old theology. If the consensus of opinion says one thing and the latest scholarship says another, then the latest scholarship can go plumb to h—l for all I care."

Candidate for "Funny House."

The evangelist said that many of the ministers of the present day were "fudge eating mollycoddles who were continually springing bum bull con on their congregations." He asserted that few ministers of today are anything but "stiffs," salary quacks, willing to accept social distinction, and that many of them are qualified candidates for the "funny house."

Continuing, he said:

"Some of you ministers are controlled by riches and not by the bible. Many of you are grafters, pure and simple. You know this, too. And there are some of you preaching today that should be carrying the hod."

Finds Pal in Sheriff.

During Sunday's address some amusement was provoked by his recognition of High Sheriff Addison G. Gumbert of Pittsburg, who used to play ball in Sunday's team with Chicago. Gumbert slipped into church quietly, but Sunday recognized him and shouted:

"There's just room for one more sinner up front here. You come up here, Ad, and get into this game. You'll enjoy it, I know."

High Sheriff Gumbert walked up and took the seat designated by his old team mate and took a lively part in the proceedings. Sunday frequently using him as the butt of a joke, Gumbert laughed aloud when Sunday said he would like to tear down all the religious seminaries in the country and duck the professors in mud puddles.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

SERGE SUITS

For the man who wishes to be well dressed for Hot Weather—without a negligee effect—we place on sale a stylish line of Blue Serge Suits—either single-breasted sack style, or double-breasted, at a nominal price of

$10.00 to $16.00

These suits are well-tailored—perfect in all appointments—and would shame the so-called made-to-order suits in finish, fit and style. Durable linings, wide facings, and stitched throughout with pure dye silk are some of the salient features. We guarantee these suits to be all wool, and wrinkle-proof, because thoroughly shrunk before being made. They are light in weight, but hold their style.

Nearly every one can wear black or blue and the 3-button sack becomes nearly everyone—especially the stout or corpulent man, while a slim or medium built man looks well in the double-breasted style

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Henry Lee's Mimic World, which, with the introduction of The Passing Show, at the big Auditorium, has created a sensation because of its marvelous effects and its edifying features, will embrace even more startling novelties on the second week of its run, which begins Sunday afternoon, June 7th. Reproductions of life scenes, from every part of the globe, are vividly displayed in clear and artistic photographs as fast as ocean greyhounds and railroad express trains can convey them to America's shores. As an illustration of this immediate tracing of current events Alfred Vanderbilt's coaching trip from London to Brighton a few weeks ago is being shown in all its life-like details, even to the sounding of horns, rattling of harness and conversation of the passengers.

Owing to the great number of subjects it has been decided to give an uninterrupted program daily and on Sunday, beginning at 2:30 and 8:00 p. m.

The innovation of the assistance of the distinguished actor, Mr. Joseph Kilgour, has proven one of the most artistic features of the entertainment. The prices will be 25 and 50 cents for the best seats, afternoon and evenings. Reservations can be made by mail or phone.

SUBORDINATION OF THE WILL.

Educator Urges Necessity of Teaching Children to Obey.

Learn to obey! By obedience I do not mean a merely outward submission to force and authority, but the voluntary subordination of one's own will under the will of a better and higher intelligence. He who has not learned to do this in childhood will have great difficulty in learning it in later life; he will rarely get beyond a deplorable and unhappy state that vitiates between outward submission and uproarious rebellion. No greater wrong can be done to childhood than the one caused by our desire to spare it the necessity of obeying. Whoever conceives the duty of the educator to consist in giving in to all desires of the child, in gratifying all its wishes, makes himself guilty of the gravest sin toward his child. He denies it what, in view of its future mission, it cannot afford to lose, namely, the exercise in voluntarily subordinating its own will under necessity, be it a natural or a social one.—Prof. F. Paulsen, University of Berlin, in Educational Review.

What She Called It.

A woman of a psychic turn of mind was telling a friend of a case of transference that puzzled her.

"I was in the shop leaning over the case looking at the handkerchiefs. Another woman was beside me. Suddenly I saw that my lucky gold piece, a sovereign, had slipped out of my purse. So I picked it up and slipped it back. But the odd thing! When I got in the car and opened my purse there were two sovereigns. The one on the case hadn't been mine at all! But do you think it was meant for me, somehow? What do you call that phenomenon?"

"I call that plain swiping," said the friend, who wasn't a mystic.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

THE WIDTH OF A SMILE.

This is a statistical age. Everything nowadays must be reduced to the average of tabulated figures.

Following this disposition, an inquiring Englishman with a genius for figures has been devoting himself to the statistics of smiles. Naturally he finds the smiles of women the more interesting study.

On an average, he says, a woman's mouth is stretched a half inch each time she smiles. He allows her thirty-six smiles a day—a fair average—and, according to this computation, the temporary extensions of her lips amount to the total of eighteen inches.

Very good indeed! Pursuing these statistics, one can easily figure that in an entire year the average woman's face would be wreathed and twisted into more than 182 yards of sunny, winsome smiles. And that is going some.

This presumably accurate estimate, however, it must be remembered, takes no account of variations. You see, there are some women who do not smile more than the sixteenth part of an inch at one attempt. And some of them do not make the attempt more than thirty-six times a month. Their smiles are stingy and therefore difficult to measure. Besides, they are the smiles that come off.

Other gracious ones smile easily and often—all over their faces. Most anything good will set their bonny lips to stretching and their dimples to dancing accompaniment to laughing eyes. Your English expert cannot measure the aggregate length of their smiles. Not on your life. That sort of smiles stretch leagues of happy laughter.

And there are some men also who can do a good job of smiling. The convulsion of mirth starts somewhere down in the region of the diaphragm, creeps upward until it spreads all over the jolly countenance. Such smiles are somewhat less than a rod in length. They need no eulogy.

Note, for instance, those types of hearty, irrepressible, generous, wide open smiles by Theodore Roosevelt and William J. Bryan.

Let your Englishman tackle them. Half an inch?

Why, they are as wide as a barn door.

Applying the Englishman's measurements, Bryan and Roosevelt smile hugely and without mental reservation seventeen miles a day.

GUARD SECRETS OF GIBRALTAR.

British Allow Little Sightseeing on Famous Island Fortress.

In spite of the fact that Gibraltar has been held by the British for 200 years the native population of to-day is unquestionably Spanish in appearance, customs and language. Our walks through the town convinced us of this fact, for everywhere we heard men, women and children talking Spanish. It is this element that forms an overwhelming majority of the civilian population. The garrison, which a few years ago numbered some 7,000 troops, now numbers but 4,000. Improved guns and projectiles making the lesser number equally efficient. The amount of sightseeing permitted to foreigners and to visiting Britishers has undergone a marked change, for not so many years ago the tourist was free to walk pretty well over the rock. Gradually this was prevented; but still it was always possible to go through several of the famous galleries. Now even that privilege has been withdrawn, and only British subjects are allowed to enter the within-the-rock batteries, which after all is not much consolation to them, as they are shown only one of the many galleries, and that a deserted one, so far as guns are concerned.

The "Infanta."

Infanta is the title given in Spain and Portugal to the princes of the royal family, with the exception of the heir apparent, the corresponding title of Infanta being given to princesses. Since the fourteenth century the heir apparent to the throne of Spain has been styled prince of Asturias, and the heir apparent in Portugal, until the separation of Brazil from the mother country, bore the title of prince of Brazil.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Final Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Little Mont, was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal scalp of hair. THE GOOD SHIP ROBIN.

Why a Builder of Long Ago Named His Vessel After a Bird.

"A long time ago, when I was a little boy," began Grandfather Alden, "there used to be shipyards, where vessels were built, very near my father's house. And one year there was a ship built there and named Robin. Now, you little people can't guess why she was named for a bird."

Doris, who was not quite five, owned at once that she could not guess. Indeed, she thought to herself that it was very silly to try when grandfather knew and would surely tell her. But Robert was two years older and was full of guesses.

"He named her Robin so she would fly through the water," he ventured. "That would have been a very good reason, but it isn't the right one," responded grandfather smilingly. "I will tell you the story. While the ship was being built a bird began to build her nest well up toward the bow. The men worked round her nest, hammered and planked, but she did not mind. When children came down into the shipyard the carpenters would tell them about this nest, and I remember being lifted up to see the four little eggs in it. Then there came a day when the eggs hatched, and there were four young robins, and in a few weeks away flew the mother with her little family.

"That very week another bird built a nest over on the starboard side and reared four more young ones. The owner of the ship was so interested that he hung up the planking till the last one was hatched out. Then when the last small bird came the vessel was finished and was named the Robin."

"What became of the ship?" questioned Robert.

"She sailed off across the seas," replied grandfather, "and I have heard was always a very fortunate vessel, as she ought to be, because she was built by a good man who respected the rights even of a family of birds."—Youth's Companion.

A Droll Little Game.

It's a droll little game. The small Hollanders play—"How long can you stare Without blinking?"

It is always the same. Be the day gray or gay, But you never can guess What they're thinking.

Their steady gaze meets you On meadow or dune, By the wharfs where the barges Are bumping.

While unceasingly greets you The clattering tune That their stout wooden klumpen Are clumping.

But day after day (It seems really a shame), With their blue saucer eyes Never winking.

The small Hollanders play At this droll little game, "How long can you stare Without blinking?" —New York Tribune.

An Experiment.

Take three bowls and stand them in a row. In the bowl at one end put as much hot water as your hand can bear; in the one at the other end put ice water, in the middle bowl lukewarm water.

Now hold your right hand in the hot water and your left hand in the cold, say, for a minute or more; then suddenly place both hands in the lukewarm water and notice the effect.

If the one tested is blindfolded, a good deal of amusement will follow.

Dixon-McCorrey.

This morning at six o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Rev. Father Michael Foley performed the marriage ceremony uniting in marriage Charles McCorrey and Mr. Elizabeth F. Dixon. The wedding was a very quiet one. Mr. and Mrs. McCorrey were attended by Miss Margaret McGinnis and J. W. Kelley. The bride was very elegantly gowned in brown silk. Mr. and Mrs. McCorrey left on an early morning train for an extended eastern trip, and on their return will be at home to their friends in Bluff Park.

HAVE SURPLUS OF FURNITURE. Writer Criticizes Modern Methods of House Adornment.

Most people have far too much furniture in their houses, and certainly the majority indulge in too much textile fabric. Too many curtains, too many antimacassars, too many mats and cushions, says a writer in Good Health. All these things collect and hold dust, and curtains shut out fresh air and sunshine. Carpets, especially in the rooms we sleep in, I would abolish.

The bedroom carpet is a snare, and the sooner it makes its final exit the better for the family health. That great artist and critic, William Morris, once said: "Have nothing in your house that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful. This is counsel many women might take to heart, thereby making their homes more beautiful, and undoubtedly far easier to keep clean and orderly."

Will Soon Belong to Language.

The word "contraption" finds its place in the Standard dictionary; but it has not yet obtained full currency; it is a colloquialism. Bartlett notes its use as an Americanism. With greater particularity Mr. Farmer's "Americanisms" puts it into pillory as "a genuine American vulgarism applied to any new-fangled peculiar thing or idea." Yet the same author, collaborating with Henley in the "Dictionary of Slang and Colloquial English," seems in this later work to regard it as English of England, for the definition is "small articles, tools and so forth," and to this has appended the date 1838 as representing the first period of its currency. The Standard's derivation from con and trap seems rather a concession to the mechanics of etymology than an explanation of the sense of the word.

The House of Lords.

The higher nobility or peerage of England contains five ranks: Duke, marquess, earl, viscount and baron. All persons holding these titles are members of the upper house of parliament, where they sit as lords temporal. The archbishops and bishops of the Established church are termed lords spiritual. They are not peers of the realm, but have seats in the upper house.

Looking for the Fifth.

The leading lady passed down the avenue with her speckled bull pup. "That's the star," whispered the sweet singer. "Star, eh?" laughed the low comedian. "Then I'd call her Jupiter. She has had four moons."

"Four moons?"

"Yes, honeymoons."

REVIVALS ATTRACTING CROWDS

MUST GO EARLY IF YOU WANT TO HEAR EVANGELIST BROOKS.

Between two and three hundred men and women attended the revival meeting at the West Side Congregational church last evening. Rev. J. G. Brooks preached a most convincing sermon from Isaiah 55:6-7, "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will multiply pardon." The singing by the choir and male quartet was unquestionably inspiring.

Rev. Brooks will preach this evening at 7:30 and Charles Huggins will lead the singing. Come early if you want a good seat. "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." Prayer meeting at 7 p. m. in the church parlors. Services for men and women and children Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, CHICAGO.

Paid in Full, Eugene Walter's than play now starting on the second month of its engagement at the Grand opera house, bids fair to become a permanent thing in Chicago. No dramatic presentation of recent years has made such an earnest and magnetic appeal to the taste of the average playgoer as this powerful and entertaining drama has done. People are writing letters to the papers concerning it and prominent citizens like Superior Court Judge Marcus Kavanaugh, Rev. Maurice J. Dorney, Supt. of Police Shipley and Judge Frank Crowe of the municipal court have expressed themselves publicly in praise of the play.

One writer says of Paid in Full: "It is the story of the man who believes the world owes him a living, and with a brain full of seething socialism and greed, tries to collect the debt from the pocket of his employer."

Eugene Walter, who first attracted attention with his play, Sergeant James, and The Undertow, is a real debt from the pocket of his own playwrights and there is in his work a simplicity, a deadly, cumulative and tragic truth-telling naturalism just on the lines of the life of the average man, that grips and will not let go the interest.

BLOOD POISON

HUMILIATING-VILE-DESTRUCTIVE

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer, which is quickly followed by a red rash on the skin, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, ulcerated mouth and throat, and often copper colored spots on different parts of the body. As the blood becomes more fully contaminated with the poison, pustular eruptions, and sores break out on the flesh, and in extreme cases the nerves and bones are attacked and the finger nails drop off. Then the sufferers find themselves diseased from head to foot with this humiliating, vile and destructive poison. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has been inoculated by handling the clothing or using the toilet articles of an infected person. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, and neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, tones up the system, and completely and permanently cures this disease. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison. If you are suffering with this debasing and destructive disease begin the use of S. S. S. and get the

ZOLA IN THE PANTHEON

Ashes of the Great Writer Rest Now in the French Temple of Fame.

ANTI-SEMITIC PROTEST IS VAIN

They Declare the Honor an "Insult to the Nation."

Cheers and Groans Greet the Procession Carrying the Remains to the Pantheon, but the Cheers Predominate.

Paris, June 4.—With elaborate ceremonies the body of the famous author, Emile Zola, was today placed in the Pantheon, the French Temple of Fame, the government making the function a state affair and the exercises being almost identical with those performed when the body of Victor Hugo, the last great Frenchman to be so honored, was transferred to the Pantheon. The realization that Zola was glorified not so much as a reward for his prodigious literary activity as because he was the first great leader in the Dreyfus affair, which routed the general staff of the army and forced France to purge herself of the charge of social injustice, revived whatever is left of the old animosities that ten years ago divided France into two camps.

Reactionaries in Bitter Protest.

This is apparent from the rage manifested by the former anti-Dreyfus papers, which today are heaping insults upon the memory of Zola as a traitor of France in his novels, and are crying that the translation of his remains to the Pantheon is a national disgrace. These reactionary agencies plainly are trying to provoke anti-Zola manifestations. In accordance with the arranged programme the remains which had been lying under a striking bust of the novelist in the cemetery of Montmartre, were borne last night in a simple hearse, followed by the widow and other members of the family and a few intimate friends in carriages to the Pantheon, where the coffin was placed upon a high catafalque erected in the middle transept beneath a high cupola.

Both Cheers and Groans.

Thousands of persons who had assembled around the Pantheon raised cheers and groans, the cheers predominating, as the hearse passed and an attempt by a few rowdies to start a hostile manifestation proved a failure. During the night the body was watched over by friends of the famous writer to prevent possible manifestations before the tomb.

Editor Declares It an Infamy.

The rabid anti-Semitic journal La Libre Parole published an extra denouncing the government and parliament in the foulest terms for ordering the "glorification of Zola," characterizing it as an infamy which will convert the Pantheon into a sewer. It appeals to the people to demonstrate against "this insult to the country and their faith."

PRELATE AND ROCKEFELLER

Cardinal Logue and the Great Oil Magnate Have a Social Chat at Tarrytown.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 4.—Cardinal Logue, Roman Catholic primate of Ireland, and John D. Rockefeller met here at the home of James Butler, and after spending several minutes chatting on general subjects they posed for a picture with Bishop Brown, of Ireland. The meeting was arranged by Father Lennon, whose church adjoins the Rockefeller estate and who plays golf with Rockefeller.

Cardinal Logue expressed to Rockefeller his warm appreciation of the United States, and Rockefeller replied that he was very much pleased because he was proud of his native land and wants all people to think well of it and the people. Rockefeller expressed a desire to meet the cardinal again, but this could not be arranged owing to the fact that Cardinal Logue will start for Ireland on Saturday.

Black Hawk War Veteran Dead.

Creston, Ia., June 4.—Daniel Ritchey, aged ninety years, is dead at Creston. He was a veteran of the Black Hawk war. He kept a hotel in Adams county in 1855, and when John Brown and Jim Lane were running slaves north into Canada his hostelry was a rendezvous for them.

Female "Red" Is Hanged.

Lexington, Ky., June 4.—President Frost, during commencement exercises at Berea college, announced that a contribution of $50,000 had been made to the Berea college school fund by an unknown eastern giver.

INSURANCE LAKE TRAFFIC

Order by the Interstate Commerce Board Has to Do with That Matter.

Washington, June 4.—The inclusion of marine insurance in was bound in a lake freight rates is involved in an order made public by the interstate commerce commission in the case of Wyman Partridge & Co., of Minneapolis, against the Boston and Maine railroad and other carriers.

The commission announced its intention to order a reduction of those rates to the extent of the increase made therein to cover marine insurance therefor paid by shippers, unless the carriers "tendered a contract of shipment under which the shipper receives the same protection which he has formerly had under his policy of marine insurance, and make the necessary changes in their tariffs, if any are required."

Certain of the carriers have submitted to the commission a proposed tariff provision which is satisfactory to the commission.

WON BY AN OUTSIDER

Derby Is Captured by an Italian Filly with Odds Against Her of 100 to 1.

London, June 4.—Ridden by a jockey garbed in stable clothes and a weather-beaten straw hat, and an outsider against whom the odds were 100 to 1, the Italian filly Signorinetta captured the world's blue ribbon of the turf, the Derby, on Epsom Downs. King Edward's entry Perrier was an "also ran"; Belmont's Norman III didn't get a place and the same is true of Vanderbilt's Seaside II.

The winning horse is the property of E. Ghislinelli, and it is the first time a Derby has been won by a horse ridden by a jockey in such "undress uniform." The Duke of Portland's Primer was second and Barclay Walker's Hlangwin was third.

Women in Cuban Politics.

Havana, June 4.—Senora Zuponet, president of a committee of the Ladies' Liberal club, of Santiago de las Vegas, which was organized to support the candidacy of Alfredo Zayas for the presidency, visited Governor Magoon. She told the governor that this was the first time in the history of Cuba that women have taken an active part in a political campaign.

Wage Conference Is Slow.

Pittsburg, June 4.—Advisers from Cambridge Springs, Pa., where the wage conference is being held, are to the effect that but little progress has been made in arranging the scale for the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and that there is every indication of a prolonged conference.

Hearst's Gain Is Now 123.

New York, June 4.—The recount of the ballots in the disputed mayoralty election of 1905, twenty-nine ballot boxes were opened which showed a gain of 16 votes for William R. Hearst. Seventy-seven boxes have been counted since the recount was begun and the total gain for Hearst is 123.

Wholesale Grocers in Council.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Dixon Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Dixon proof:
Mrs. L. Sindlinger of 220 West Chamberlain street, Dixon, Ill., says: "I was a sufferer from kidney complaint for a number of years. The weakness across the small of my back and hips and the lameness in my limbs was such that I had to lie down frequently, and the kidney secretions gave me much annoyance, being far too frequent both day and night. My attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy for this trouble and I procured a box at Leake Bros.' drug store. They cured me entirely and I am glad to state now that I have had no return of the trouble.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

ALLISON SURELY WINS

Chosen at the Iowa Primaries to Succeed Himself as United States Senator.

HIS MAJORITY IS ABOUT 10,000

Carroll Gets the Nomination for Governor by About 15,000.

Hull Has a Close Shave for Congress. Either Way—Bryan Concludes His Tour After Making Eighty Speeches.

Des Moines, Ia., June 4. — Returns that are complete in nearly all the counties of the state indicate that Iowa Republicans nominated William B. Allison as their candidate to succeed himself in the United States senate. His majority is now generally conceded to be at least 10,000. B. F. Carroll was nominated for governor, over Warren Garst, by a majority of about 20,000. George W. Clarke was nominated for lieutenant governor, over R. Murphy, by 20,000 or more. J. F. Briggs was nominated superintendent of public schools by an overwhelming majority. The result on railroad commission is uncertain and further returns will be necessary to determine the result.

Close Shave in Hull's District.
Governor Cummins took the result of the primaries very gracefully, and spent part of the day with friends playing golf. Senator Allison, at Duquaine, expressed great gratification at the result. Governor Cummins would make no statements as to his further political plans. The Republican congressional nomination in Representative Hull's district is in doubt, only a matter of a few votes being between Hull and re-nomination. Frank P. Woods, Republican state chairman, defeated Representative Conner in the Tenth district and Representative Hubbard was re-nominated in the Eleventh.

Seven Districts for Allison.

Counties which two years ago went for Governor Cummins returned a majority for Allison. Seven congressional districts give Allison his majority. He carried practically every county in the First and Second districts. In the Third district he lost Hardin county and in the Fifth Cummins secured a majority in three of the counties.

BRYAN TOUR HAS CLOSED

Makes About Eighty Speeches in a Week—Maryland Doesn't Indorse.

Omaha, June 4.—The week's speech-making tour of Bryan through the northern and western portions of Nebraska ended with a rear platform speech at Columbus and he arrived at Omaha last evening. He has made forty-two set speeches and nearly that many informal responses since he left home last Thursday. In most instances these addresses have had a home color to them, but in no instance has he failed to touch on national politics, and he has directed his principal effort to opposing the present financial system, and in nearly every speech made he has pointed out what he considered the weakness of the currency measure passed by congress. His speeches on the closing day of his tour were made at North Platte, and Lexington, and at the latter place business was practically suspended. He declared himself delighted with his trip. He stayed here last night and started home this morning.

Bryan's speech at Lexington, in part, was a eulogy of Senator LaFollette for his opposition to the emergency currency bill.

Baltimore, June 4.—The Democratic state convention was held here and delegates to the national convention at Denver were elected and a platform adopted. The latter makes no mention of the candidacy for the presidential nomination of Bryan, and his followers, who had been claiming half the delegation sent to Denver count but four sure Bryan men among the sixteen delegates chosen. The platform promises the candidates named at Denver the "generous and loyal support of the thoroughly united Democracy of Maryland," but makes no suggestion as to who the candidates should be. For the rest the platform is a standard Democratic declaration.

Baton Rouge, La., June 4.—W. J. Bryan was indorsed for the presidency by the Democratic state convention here. It was decided, however, to send the Louisiana delegation to Denver instructed. A resolution instructing for Bryan was voted down overwhelmingly.

Taft's Manager at Chicago.

Chicago, June 4.—Frank H. Hitchcock, eastern campaign manager for Secretary Taft, has arrived from Washington, serene and confident that the Ohioan will be nominated on the first ballot taken in the convention. Others who have arrived are John Eversman, advance agent of Cannon's boom; A. B. Humphrey, manager of the Hughes headquarters, and Senator Scott, West Virginia, member of the national committee.

Split on the Mormon Issue.

Twin Falls, Ida., June 4. — The Democratic party of Idaho is hopelessly split on the Mormon question. Amid the wildest scenes ever witnessed at a convention in this state two conventions were held in the same hall. Each claims to be regular and a bitter contest before the national committee at Denver is certain. Dubois leads the anti-Mormon faction. Both conventions named delegates to Denver.

Col. Martin at Denver.

Denver, June 4.—Colonel John L. Martin, of St. Louis, sergeant-at-arms of the Democratic national convention, has arrived here and will remain until after the close of the convention.

HONOR TO JEFFERSON DAVIS

All the Southland Devotes a Day to Celebrating the 100th Anniversary of His Birth.

New Orleans, June 4.—Honor was paid to the memory of Jefferson Davis all over the southland yesterday, the one hundredth anniversary of his birth. At Montgomery, Ala., the "Cradle of the Confederacy," and where the Confederate government was first organized with Jefferson Davis as president, ceremonies were held which will help to perpetuate the memory of the cause of which Davis was the head. These ceremonies consisted in marking the spots where Davis was elected, where he was inaugurated, where his office as president was situated, and the site of the first headquarters of the new government. Later permanent markings will be placed on these historic spots.

Simultaneously with the Montgomery exercises memorial meetings were in progress from Virginia to Texas, while business was stopped by holidays in some states and slowed down in others as a tribute to the life and deeds of Jefferson Davis. Among the day's celebrations were those at Fairview, in Todd county, Ky., Davis' birthplace, and at Beauvoir, Miss., for years his home and now a Confederate Veterans' Home.

PUBLISHER IN TROUBLE

Runs Up Against the "Fraud Order" and Now Is Resting Under Indictment.

St. Paul, June 4.—The federal grand jury has returned three indictments against James L. Lovering, publisher of The Mail Order Monthly and of Successful Agriculture, charging him with using the mails for the purpose of promoting a lottery and a scheme to defraud. An indictment charging illegal use of the mails was returned against Samuel A. Phillips, promoter of the St. Paul and Seattle Electric railway. Martin P. Quigley, cashier of the Wisconsin Grain and Stock company, was indicted on a charge of perjury.

The alleged fraudulent schemes with which Lovering is charged consist of puzzles and prize contests conducted through his papers. The publications, it is alleged, announced forty-acre farms, machinery, household utensils, organs, pianos, and other valuable articles to be awarded to the successful contestants. It is alleged that Lovering obtained money by announcing the prize contests, but failed to award the prizes.

Fatal Explosion of Dynamite.

Washington, June 4.—A premature explosion of twenty-six tons of dynamite caused by lightning on May 22, at Calhoun Mulate, in the Chagres division, canal zone, resulted in the death of two citizens of the United States, Clifford J. Coggon, levelman, and J. P. Roche, powderman. Two other employees were injured. Several hundred men were in the vicinity and it was considered remarkable that there was so few casualties.

Daily Murder and Suicide.

Wilmington, Del., June 4.—Michael Emory, about twenty-five years old, proprietor of a grocery, was shot and killed by John Hipolit, a Pole who formerly worked for him. Immediately after murdering Emory, Hipolit committed suicide by shooting. The murderer is supposed to have been temporarily deranged, as he is not known to have malice against Emory.

Headquarters Stay at Cleveland.

Columbus, O., June 4.—By a vote of two to one the international convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers voted to retain the general headquarters at Cleveland for the next decennial period beginning 1910. Detroit was chosen as the next place of meeting of the next biennial convention, and W. H. Kent, of Detroit, elected third assistant grand engineer.

Benton Harbor Loses Headquarters.

Detroit, June 4.—The Michigan and Indiana Retail Coal association concluded its annual meeting here after voting to change the headquarters from Benton Harbor, Mich., to Detroit. The following officers were elected: President, J. W. Landrum, Terre Haute, Ind.; secretary, R. E. Harris, Benton Harbor, Mich.

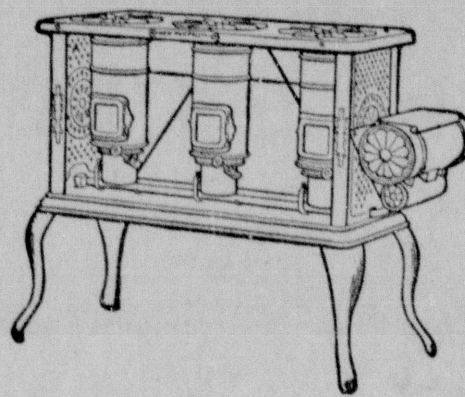

Church Union Is Postponed.

Pittsburg, June 4.—The proposed union of the Presbyterian and the United Presbyterian churches has been abandoned for the president. At the closing session of the general assembly of the United Presbyterians here a report recommending such action was adopted. The assembly has adjourned sine die.

Went to the Lodge to Die.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 4.—C. H. Houghton, representative of a Syracuse, N. Y., salt company, entered the Knights of Pythias lodge room here, a perfect stranger to all, delivered a short address and then dropped dead.

You Will Need an Oil Stove

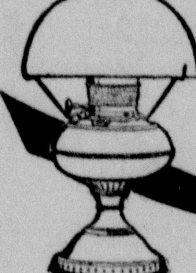

When warm days and the kitchen fire make cooking a burden—then is the time to try a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove.

Marvelous how this stove does away with kitchen discomforts—how cool it keeps the room in comparison with conditions when the coal fire was burning. The quick concentrated heat of the

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

goes directly to boil the kettle or bake the bread, and none is diffused about the room to overheat it. Thus using the "New Perfection" is real kitchen comfort. Made in three sizes and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp Just such a lamp as everyone wants—handsome enough for the parlor; strong enough for the kitchen, camp or cottage; bright enough for every occasion. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

KODAKS

JUNE is the Month for KODAKS

The beauty of the scenery is at its height and vacation days are here. We sell everything in KODAKS, from the $1 Brownie up to the $35.00 and always have a good stock of fresh films, etc.

Did you ever try a KODAK Developing Tank or a Brownie Box? Even a child can develop films easily in one of these in daylight. They cost from $1.00 upwards.

YOU ARE INVITED

To open negotiations with us towards having the "RODESCH" 88-note player put into your piano. Makes no difference what make or whether it is a new or old piano. One of these players in your piano enables any member of your family or your friends, to sit at, and without any interference whatever for hand playing. Get our new catalogue and read all about it. Hear it at our beautiful new warehouses in the Opera Block.

The "RODESCH" player has recently been put into the following different makes of pianos—Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering Bros., Strick & Zeidler, A. B. Chase, Melville Clark, Reed & Sons, and Schumann.
